. If you have any questions, you can write to us at: South End, MA Just The Facts: Houston, TX We spent our most recent vacation in Houston, where we enjoyed a nice visit with friends at Margarita's Cantina. We were lucky to visit during the week, and ended up taking a visit to Deep Ellum to catch up with friends. We made a point to take a day trip to Galveston, which was a ton of fun. We still have a hard time deciding where to go next, but we're taking another trip to Mexico in the Fall to celebrate our 37th wedding anniversary, so we'll likely decide then. Lastly, here are some of the places that we visited while we were in Houston: Rice Village - Houston's "art district" which features a number of wonderful galleries and coffee shops - we particularly enjoyed Frogtown Galleys. Bellaire - The most "in" place to live for the "creatives" of Houston. A good number of places to eat, and a very interesting neighborhood. Pearl - Full of neat, little shops and antique stores. A real walkable neighborhood and very charming. Ike's Place - On Harwin Drive, next to one of the local food trucks. Very good, very cheap pizza! District 206 - A large (and overpriced) mall with lots of restaurants and shops and the site of the Houston Marathon. Galleria - A huge (and overpriced) mall. Very clean, with a number of interesting stores. Our Favorite Beaches Friends Of The Westsiders Westsiders is a company that helps people with their home's emergency needs. We've been serving the Houston area for over 20 years, and you can read about our history here. The "Contact Us" tab takes you to our home page, where you can find a number of ways to get in touch with us. If you'd like to reach a particular team member or contact us about the site, you can find that here as well. We are a 501(c)(3) company, and contributions to the Westsiders Hurricane Harvey Fund are tax-deductible. A List Apart A List Apart is a global community of people who are interested in site and user experience, and who help others make things better. They're 82157476af
